

Morgan LaMantia took on rising healthcare costs and won

“How giving our employees with diabetes FREE ACCESS TO A DOCTOR not only saved them money; it saved our business money.”

Morgan knows the one thing more expensive than health care is avoiding it.

Ignore a cavity and eventually you'll pay for a root canal. Ignore diabetes and the consequences can get very serious.

That's why Morgan LaMantia rebuilt the health care policy for the 1200 employees for her family's business. Any employee with a chronic disease, like diabetes or high blood pressure, had free access to a doctor, 24/7.

Morgan's co-workers embraced the policy, and it not only reduced the number of missed days of work, it lowered health care costs overall.

Now Morgan is reaching out to Democrats and Republicans to pass Medicaid expansion in Texas. Because when more families have insurance, they take care of their health and that reduces costs for all of us.

Lowering costs and standing up for working families. Morgan is part of a new generation of leadership focused on getting things done.
