

I'm Not Voting For Trump!

If you're still thinking about who to vote for in the coming election for president, perhaps I can interest you in looking at some more principals that I am voting for. This is a continuation of a number of points made last week that were compiled from points raised by the Hoover Institute.

I'm voting to keep my car and the fuel it uses. My money, my choice!

I'm voting to keep my gas stove, washing machine and dryer and every other appliance I like.

I'm for not being surveilled by the FBI, CIA or any other government agency.

I'm voting for someone who sticks up for me and not 15 million(?) illegals getting more money and benefits than real Americans.

I'm voting to NOT allow illegals into my country who are not vetted—particularly single men of military age—wonder what their plans are! We already know a number of them have committed many serious crimes against American citizens

I'm voting to stop Chinese from coming into our country after in excess of 40,000 have arrived. President Xi doesn't let his people leave without a purpose of benefit to the Chinese Communist Party.

I'm voting for NO CITIZENSHIP for people who come here illegally. They need to return to their previous country and apply for citizenship the legal way.

I'm voting for the deportation of ALL the millions of illegals creating a terrific load on our communities and nation.

I'm voting for the preservation of our Second Amendment deemed so very important by our Founding Fathers.

I'm voting for the return to respect for our American Flag and the customs and traditions it stands for.

I'm voting for a Congress that will protect our monuments and other cultural representations from disrespect by anyone.

I'm voting for a candidate who sees to the reform of our Secret Service and FBI so that they faithfully follow their original purpose for being created.

I'm voting for a president who will not sell out his(her) country for a few dollars or power for himself or herself.

I leave you, the reader, to add your own reasons to vote for who you desire. Just be true to yourself and your God and country in your vote.

I think you know who I will be voting for.

Watch for more in two weeks.
