

Edward Maloof For Beaver Creek City Council

New Leadership, New Solutions

City government has only a few essential services that must be funded.

You can't control spending and taxes if you don't understand and accept the city's limited role in providing these services.

Experience

- Worked in IT for 50 years, currently as a full-time technical consultant.
- Pastor for 33 years; currently for a local Beaver Creek church.
- Directed a non-profit religious organization for 22 years.
- Married 46 years.
- Children also live in Beaver Creek.
- Active in local civic affairs

Platform

- Essential services are streets, sewers, police, emergency services, and parks.
- If city officials don't understand their limited roles, we end up with bankrupt golf courses, unused pedestrian bridges-to-nowhere, and buying park land without operating funds resulting in coercing taxpayers for new taxes to prevent wasting previous spending.
- As an example of looking into the future, in building a new city hall, we must ensure it remains structurally and functionally simple, and not seen as extravagant, as many government buildings turn out to be.

Beaver Creek is a great place to live. If elected, as an advocate for the hard-working Beaver Creek citizens, I will work to control taxes and spending by ensuring the city meets its duty in providing only high-quality necessary services.

I am asking for your vote on November 7th.
Thank you.
